

Ms. Frederick's class made watermelons to represent the letter W.

Let's Find, Make, and Write Letters!

You can help your child learn letters by noticing them, making them, and writing them in fun ways:

- When you are at home or out with your child, point out letters that you see in the environment. For instance, when looking at a website, show your child the first letter of their name. You can say, "here's an S. Your name starts with the letter S."
- Using playdough, shaving cream, or glue, make the shapes of letters with your child.
